Headline:
Low cloud overnight. Dry and sunny for most Monday.

This Evening and Tonight:
A dry and fine evening away from coastal districts, which will continue to see patches of mist, fog and low cloud. Cloud pushing west across Lincolnshire through the early hours but staying dry throughout. Chilly in rural spots overnight. Minimum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Monday:
Low cloud quickly retreating to the coast where it will stay chilly, but otherwise fine and dry with long periods of sunshine. Warm, but cooler on the coast. Maximum temperature 23 deg C (73 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Warm and dry with sunny spells on Tuesday and Wednesday. Overnight low cloud burning back to the coast by day. Occasionally heavy rain overnight into Thursday, then feeling fresher.
